

ANDREW EWELL

Business Development Executive

ACTIONS MATTER.®

Contact Information

E: aewell@grahamco.com

Andrew Ewell joined Graham in 2021 with the responsibility of business development and increasing Graham's prospect pipeline. He focuses on developing new business relationships with privately held companies within the manufacturing, construction, and real estate industries. Andrew is responsible for the design and implementation of comprehensive, cost-effective insurance programs and risk management strategies for clients.

Prior to joining Graham, Andrew received his Bachelor of Science degree from Rutgers University, obtained a Masters Degree in Philosophy from the Athenaeum of Ohio, and worked at Independence Blue Cross Blue Shield where he provided account assistance for national and large local accounts. He currently resides in Philadelphia, PA. Andrew is active within his community. Having previously served in foreign missions with the Catholic Church, Andrew helps promote professional development and involvement of young professionals in the Greater Philadelphia business community.