

SEAN H. BROGAN

Esquire, Managing Director

ACTIONS MATTER.®

Sean Brogan is a Managing Director with The Graham Company. Sean joined The Graham Company in 2006 as Associate General Counsel, and served as a technical and legal resource for Clients, Producers, Account Managers and Claims Consultants, particularly in claims situations. In 2007, Sean transitioned into the role of a Producer, where he now draws on his ten years of experience as an insurance coverage litigator to assist Clients with the design and implementation of comprehensive, cost-effective insurance programs and risk management strategies. Sean currently leads The Graham Company's Health & Human Services Industry Team, and is a member of the Professional and Financial Services Industry Team.

Sean received a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Political Science from The Catholic University of America and a Juris Doctor from Villanova University School of Law. Before joining The Graham Company in 2006, he was a litigator with Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP, a national law firm headquartered in Philadelphia. In that role, he obtained verdicts for clients in federal and state courts around the country in a wide variety of complex commercial cases and other insurance-related matters.
