Tom Morrin joined The Graham Company in 2007 and is responsible for new business development. He specializes in insuring large, complex organizations and structures, including Controlled Insurance Programs (CIP), Healthcare systems, religious and educational institutions, and other hard-to-place risks.

In addition, he is a member of the Board of Directors of The Simpson Foundation, the philanthropic and fund-raising arm of Simpson Senior Services, which operates the oldest Continuing Care Retirement Community (CCRC) in the United States affiliated with the United Methodist Church, dating to 1865. Morrin is also on the Board of Directors of the Gallaudet University Maguire Academy of Risk Management and Insurance, which endeavors to create career opportunities within the insurance industry for deaf students.

Before joining Graham, Morrin spent over a decade working in the San Francisco Bay area, Cambridge, MA and internationally in the “start-up” software industry in various operations and business development roles.

Morrin graduated in 1993 from the University of Pennsylvania with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics and International Relations. He subsequently completed the Finance and Accounting Program of the Wharton Program for Working Professionals (WPWP) at the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania.
